

MAD LIBRARY!

Complete the list on the left to substitute for the blanks in the story, then read the story aloud!

adjective: _____

verb: _____

noun plural: _____

verb: _____

noun: _____

verb: _____

verb -ing: _____

verb: _____

verb: _____

verb -ing: _____

verb: _____

noun: _____

body part: _____

noun plural: _____

verb: _____

body part: _____

adjective: _____

adjective: _____

Looking for Books?

There are so many books in the Alamosa Public Library that it can sometimes be (adjective) to (verb) one to read. Thankfully, there are plenty of (noun plural) to help you.

First, you could (verb) the (noun) catalog for the title and then (verb) for it on the shelves. If you're still having trouble (verb -ing) for the book you want, ask a librarian to (verb) you--that's what they're there for!

If you are not sure of what book you would like to (verb), you could try (verb -ing) someone for a recommendation or go online and (verb) what's on the latest bestsellers (noun). You could also try your (body part) at Library Book Bingo, which has lots of (noun plural) to choose from and win a free book! Lastly, (verb) the shelves until something catches your (body part), then check it out! (Adjective) luck and (adjective) reading!